Thoddoo Island

is a part of the Ari Atoll, Thoddoo is actually a single, separate, oval island about 20km from the northern edge of the main atoll. It's about 1,6km in length, 1,2km in width and has a population of around 1700. This island is the largest producer of watermelon in Maldives. Watermelons are commonly produced during the holy month of Ramadan. There are important Buddhist ruins in an area of this island and some key remains were found. Buddhist statue can be visit in Male National Museum.

On Thoddoo you can find a hospital and a pharmacy. Also some shops and restaurants are available. Feel free to look around, we can also show you where you can find what you are searching for.

Please respect our cultural background. Thoddoo is a Muslim Island. We have a special guest area on the beach where you can wear bikini. Feel free to ask if you have further questions about our religion.

Directly at the Bikini beach you can snorkel around by yourself. Swimming in this area is safe. Just be aware if there is strong current. Please be always careful. Swimming/Snorkeling for your own risk.

If you would like to go for a snorkeling trip outside the reef we will join you and take care about your safeness.

If you have any further questions feel free to ask!
We will do our best to make your wishes come true.
Enjoy your amazing holiday!

Dolphin Watching Trip

Do you know?

Dolphins are well known for their agility and playful behavior. Many species will leap out of the water, spy/hop and follow ships, often synchronizing their movements with one another. Scientists believe that dolphins conserve energy by swimming alongside ships, a practice known as bow-riding.

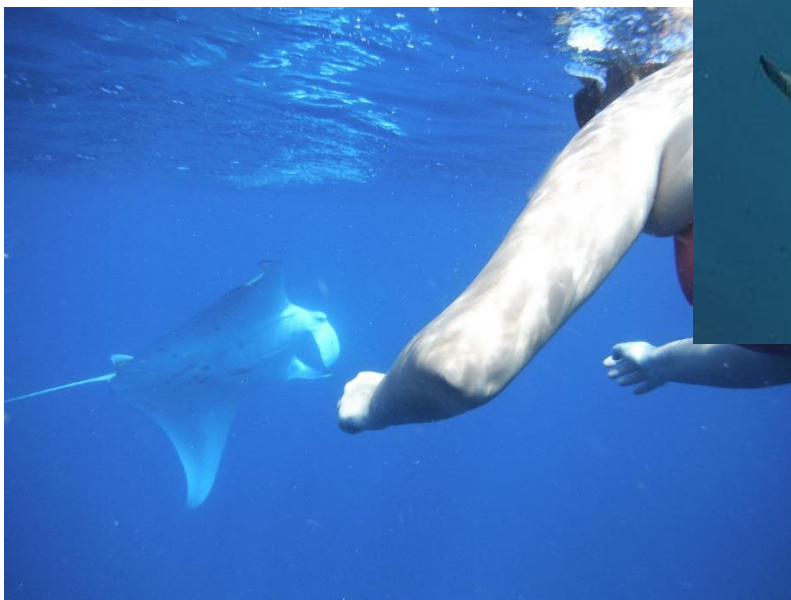

Dolphins live in social groups of five to several hundred. They use echolocation to find prey and often hunt together by surrounding a school of fish, trapping them and taking turns swimming through the school and catching fish.
