DESCRIPTION

Cook's Club Adakoy boasts a unique setting: perched on the sun-drenched Adaköy peninsula, and on the edge of one of the Mediterranean's most lively cities. The bay feels remote and untouched, despite being no more than a 20-minute taxi ride away from Marmaris.

Close by, you have access to an assortment of delicious eateries, like tiny, family-run fish restaurants serving the daily catch or authentic hole-in-the-wall cafes serving traditional Turkish cuisine. A beautiful Turkish bazaar sells a range of original trinkets and handmade goods, and there are plenty of bars to explore.

From the shores of this remote Turkish headland, you can find your inner balance at our outdoor yoga platform, overlooking the beautiful bay of Marmaris. There are plenty of opportunities to explore the land by foot, with hikes in the national park and through ancient caves, providing stunning views over the Mediterranean Sea.

This unique and charming resort facility has the most beautiful, yet secluded beaches in the region.

The small Bedir Island lying in front, gives an excellent protection while hiding the resort away from Marmaris.
