

TAUSI PALACE HOTEL

Located in the UNESCO heritage site and walking distance of the most tourist spots, the 35 bedroom and fully air conditioned and recently refurbished hotel boasts of the richest wood work and possibly the largest bedrooms of all other hotels in the area.

Moderately priced to suit most pockets, the hotel also prides itself for its culinary services to suit most of the nationalities. The hotel also provides and invites enquiries for the purpose built conference hall with a capacity of 100 delegates.

AT A GLANCE

UNESCO Heritage site, Stone Town, lies at the cultural core of the idyllic island of Zanzibar. Little has changed in Stone Town over the last 200 years, the town's unique blend of Arabic and African cultural influences originate from the 19th century, when Zanzibar Island served as a center for the trade of spices and slaves. Today, with streets filled with rich aromas of spices, perfumes and local handcrafts and with warm Swahili smiles all around, it is no surprise that visitor's fast fall in love with Stone Town's captivating charm and faded grandeur of times gone by.
